~ Champagne ~

Champagne literally translated as 'open landscape' is not just any sparkling wine. It is a wine produced from three specific grape varieties, chardonnay, pinot noir, and pinot meunier using the 'Champagne Method' from the province of the same name. Although sparkling wine is produced all over the world. It can only be called Champagne in this heavily regulated wine district. Noted for its chalk soils which help to provide unparalleled depth, minerality and quality

~ Alsace ~

Alsace stands apart from the rest of France, it is separated by the Vosges mountains to the west and the boundary of the Rhine River to the east. White wines rule the day here, top quality wines coming from the five noble varieties; Riesling, Gewürztraminer, Pinot Gris, Muscat & Pinot Blanc noted for their freshness, and unoaked quality. The region is additionally known for their tall narrow bottles, classically called 'Flutes D'Alsace' & varietal labelling.

~ Rhône ~

This Southern French wine region is known for some of the greatest red wines in the world. It is traditionally divided into distinct viticultural subregions; North and South. North is known for Syrah based wines, cooler with classic elegance and structure. The Southern Rhone wines tend to be Grenache based, blends are the typicity here red fruited, spicy, slightly more robust wines tend to be the norm.
